REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE

In presenting the Annual Report of the School Board to the citizens of Wilmington, we feel that we can say in the words of Mrs. Partington, "that we have pursued the evil tender of our way" during the year 1915.

As usual there have been several changes in the list of teachers of which specific mention will be found in the Superintendent's Report.

For several years the Walker building has been overcrowded. In spite of the fact that both the seventh and eighth grades have been removed to other locations, the relief has not been permanent. Rooms originally equipped for thirty-six or forty-two pupils have been forced to seat forty-five to fifty-two. In view of these conditions we have opened, the past year, a new school in the Centre building to be known as the Centre Primary. This school is intended to accommodate the children on Church Street and Middlesex Avenue north of Clark Street and also those living on Clark Street.

By doing this we are enabled to place the children from the Silver Lake district at the Walker building and relieve the congestion at the West School.

The removal of several houses by the Merrimac Chemical Company, across the line from Woburn, will mean an increase in school population in our East District of approximately twenty. This will place our East School, which for several years has been small in numbers, on a better basis for good work.

These changes in population in the West and East Districts show how hard it is to forecast school problems in advance.

In regard to the new High School building, we will say, that barring a few minor defects in construction, we are highly pleased with the manner in which it has met the needs of the school.

It has met with the highest commendation from all visitors and pronounced by State authorities an ideal plant for our purpose and one of which the people should be proud.

As the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1500) was appropriated at the March meeting for the grading of the High School grounds, we had plans prepared by Mr. Clarence E. Carter of Reading in conjunction with Mr. A. Chandler Manning of Wilmington, and in accordance with said plans and specifications a contract was entered into with Mr. George S. Foote of North Wilmington, for the sum of fourteen hundred and eighteen dollars ($1418). The contract has been carried out under the supervision of Mr. Carter and is complete except a little cleaning up for which a small amount has been retained.

We desire to express our hearty thanks to Mr. Manning for his kindness and courtesy in preparing the plans for the grounds which was entirely without financial recompense. In accordance with Mr. Manning's recommendation we would ask that the Town appropriate the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for the purpose of planting trees and shrubbery.

Owing to an overflow of water in the basement caused by the heavy rains in June and July, the floor of the gymnasium at the High School was badly damaged and had to be removed. It has not been replaced but should be, as we feel satisfied that changes already made in the sewage system will prevent an occurrence of the difficulty. Early in December, the motor operating the pump at the High School burned out and as the pump had shown insufficient capacity for the work, it seemed wise instead of repairing the old motor to install a new and larger outfit.

We have at the present time a pump which furnishes fifteen gallons of water per minute instead of two and one-half gallons with the old one.

We have received a request from Mr. L. C. Swain, the owner of land adjoining the Whitefield School, that the school lot be fenced. As the law requires that all school property be fenced if requested by abutters, it will be necessary to appropriate money for the purpose.

As the fence around the West School is in bad shape and a complaint was received some time ago from the adjoining owner, we would suggest that the appropriation include this matter; also we would call the attention of the citizens to the matter of transportation of scholars.

The law provides that a town may furnish such transportation if it sees fit, but it is not mandatory. The matter has been brought before you at several times and has been decided in the negative.

During the past year we have furnished transportation in some cases but have discontinued it since September 1, as the finances would not permit of its continuance.

During the past year new furniture has been placed in one of the rooms of the Walker building, in the new room opened at the Centre building and also an additional room at the High School.

A request for an appropriation to take care of this item is included in our budget for 1916. At the beginning of the month of December we were confronted by a lack of funds for the completion of the year.

As there seemed to be a feeling that the schools should not be closed an arrangement was entered into with the teachers whereby they accepted a reduction in their salaries for December, with the understanding that it should be made up to them in 1916.

We trust that the action of the Board will be sanctioned by the citizens and the reduction of fifty per cent for three weeks made good.

For some years the leading question in municipal finances has been the support of the public schools.

As the tax rate of Wilmington has been low compared with the majority of towns, the question of school expenditures has not been so important as in some others.

The construction of the new High School and the increase in school population have resulted in increased expense which requires additional appropriation.

A careful study of the financial statement for 1915 will show that the larger part has been expended on salaries.

The policy of the Board has been to secure competent teachers and having done so to retain their services as long as we felt we could in justice to the best interests of the Town.

We do not feel that we have been extravagant in this respect and trust that no effort will be made to get cheaper teachers in a spirit of ill-advised economy.

Next to the salaries of teachers the largest item of expenditure is books and supplies.

This is a subject which has been in controversy for several years and while we realize that there is more or less waste in the use of supplies we feel that the teachers do the best they can to reduce such waste to a minimum.

We would recommend that the matter of insurance of Town buildings be taken up with a view of procuring better rates than are now available.

A form of blanket policy has been adopted by some towns and the sinking fund plan by others.

Upon another page will be found a detailed estimate for the support of the School Department for the year 1916.

An opportunity for the pupils in our High School to do something in the line of gardening has been given by Mr. Sylvester Carter.

Mr. Carter has offered to allow the school children to use the land which he owns on Federal Hill.

Some of the members of the Grange have offered to assist by giving money, seeds and fertilizer.

Mr. Carter has also offered to superintend the work which the pupils might do in gardening.

It is sincerely hoped that with the co-operation of the Grange a beginning in gardening may be made.

In conclusion we can only say that we have tried to the best of our ability to fulfill the duties entrusted to us by the citizens of the Town. Although as tax payers we have a desire to reduce the cost of our schools if possible we do not approve of cutting down expense by a reduction of efficiency.

(Signed)

HOWARD M. HORTON,
ELLEN S. PERRY,
EDWARD S. LEWIS.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Wilmington.

Mrs. Perry and Gentlemen: I hereby submit my third annual report, which is the twentieth in the series of superintendents' reports.

The past year has been one of marked progress in your schools. The opening of the new school building, the introduction of new courses in the High School, and the readjustment of the grades have produced important changes which I shall mention under separate topics.

Teachers

Your schools are in good condition, the work of your teachers is commendable. I shall especially mention, however, only those who have left your service and those who are new to the Wilmington schools.

At the end of the school year in June, Mr. F. W. Carrier, for four years principal of the High School, resigned the principalship and later accepted a position in the Somerville High School. Mr. Carrier was an able teacher, a conscientious man, and a warm friend. He gave his best to the Wilmington High School. He won the love and friendship of scores of pupils. A large number of friends in this town wish him well in his new duties and are interested in his success.

Mr. Horace F. Bates, a graduate of Harvard College, a teacher of wide experience, and a man with strong recommendations, was secured as principal of the school. Although Mr. Bates has been in his new position but one term, he has already secured a strong hold on the school. The pupils feel his interest both in the studies and in out-of-school activities. He has built up good attendance and a business-like attention to studies, while he has aroused new interest in gymnastic and athletic pursuits. I believe that Mr. Bates will make a strong principal.

One other left the High School in June, Miss Elizabeth Lord, for two years assistant teacher. Miss Lord was doing good work; she left to accept a better salaried position.

Miss Grace Wells, a graduate of Smith College, with one year's successful experience as a teacher, was secured to follow Miss Lord. Miss Wells is doing excellent work in the class room; she shows a fine attitude toward the school, and promises to make an excellent teacher.

In February, 1915, Miss Bernice Everett, a graduate of Wellesley College, with post-graduate study at Simmons College, was engaged as teacher of the Household Arts. It seemed wise to secure for the important task of starting a new course a teacher with thorough training and successful, varied experience. Miss Everett was such an one; to her has fallen the important task of instigating, arousing, and holding the interest in the new course of Household Arts. I believe that Miss Everett has succeeded in this task, and in another place shall quote from her report.

Miss Ethel Chapman, for two years teacher at the East School, was promoted in September to the new room opened in the Central School. Her position at the East School was filled by Miss Lillian Sutherland, a graduate of Lowell Normal School, with one year's experience as teacher. Miss Sutherland has made a good start in her work.

In December, 1915, we received the resignation of Miss Ruth M. Giles, for six years first assistant and teacher of English and German in our High School. Miss Giles has won a strong place in the affection of many students. I consider her an able teacher, a good disciplinarian, a helpful force on the faculty. Her loss will be felt, but we cannot but congratulate her upon securing a position which she considers a promotion. We have found it very difficult at this season of the year to fill Miss Giles' place with a competent, experienced teacher. Miss Alice S. Furber of Manchester, N. H., of seven years' experience, seemed to your superintendent and to the committee to be such a teacher. It was with deep regret that we received Miss Furber's resignation, due to ill health, after but two weeks of service. At the time of this writing, the position is filled by a substitute teacher. We are feeling the misfortunes due to the regrettable policy of shifting teachers in mid-year.

High School

January, 1915, the new High School building was dedicated. We began work there the following Monday. This well equipped, well lighted, well heated and ventilated, modern building with its assembly room, gymnasium, sewing room, commercial rooms, household arts room, and laboratories has done much for the pupils of the school. This building has already been described in last year's report, so I will take no more space than to say it is thoroughly up-to-date, and one of the most useful buildings with which I am acquainted.

I have indicated under the topic "Teachers" that a new course was started in the High School. This course, Household Arts, was started for several reasons: one, the excellent equipment presented by the Woman's Club; another, the State requirements obliging us to employ another teacher; and lastly, the belief of the School Committee and superintendent that this new field of training was eminently worth while.

In February, 1915, under the direction of Miss Everett, this new course was offered to the girls of the Wilmington High School. Great interest was shown from the first. In spite of some criticism aroused by the innovation, I believe that the course is proving beneficial to your girls and satisfactory to the parents. I can give you no better idea of what is being done than to quote from Miss Everett's report recently sent to me: "We try to teach the Freshmen the processes of simple and practical cookery, habits of personal cleanliness, and care of utensils. The upper class girls do more difficult work and learn the scientific reason for what they do. They could serve meals, but thus far expense has prevented us from doing this. They learn, in a general way, food values and what foods should be served together, price of foods, table setting, sewing, etc.

"As the course develops, we hope to introduce Household Management, although that would require a room for practical use, dietetics and a little house planning and decoration. As sewing has been so recently introduced into the schools, there is little difference in the grade of the work in the three upper classes of the High School. The work is on underwear, garments, and simple waist and dressmaking, planning for the students to do something new on each piece of work. They learn cutting and planning to get the most from the least amount of material. As far as practical, the students make garments which fill their individual needs, thus relating the work to their daily lives. The girls pay for, or provide the material they use. In the future we hope to study fabrics, processes of manufacture and dyes, that a woman may know the true value of the material she contemplates buying. An adjustable form or figure would help us greatly in our work.

"Many parents have expressed appreciation of the recess luncheon. When that part of the work was begun, several teachers said that they saw quite a change in the way pupils took up their work after recess, they had more energy and force than formerly.

"When the lunch work can be done with advantage to the girls, it is done in the cooking classes. But it is not profitable to repeat much simple work in class, so the next plan is to have two or more members take their turn in doing the lunch cooking, while the rest of the class carry on the regular work. This year three of the Senior girls take charge of the lunch work. They plan the daily list of the girls who wash dishes and serve, they set the table and do any cooking necessary in the period before recess. All this is a valuable lesson in responsibility, in adapting themselves to work with others and in meeting situations. We serve simple nourishing foods in as great variety as possible with our limited lunch equipment.

" We have been able to sell the food at two cents a serving and cover the cost of the raw material. During the Fall term, so many of the lessons have been on food for the lunch room that the total cost of raw material for lunch and lessons has been less than ten dollars above the luncheon receipts, or less than one dollar a week. The important fact is that this luncheon work gives the class of girls who do the work invaluable experience in cooking in more-than-family quantity, and also they see the results of the labor serve a definite purpose."

While our attention has been riveted to a great degree on plans for the new course, we have not neglected more time-honored methods of High School education. The question has been frequently asked, " Do you fit for college?" I answer most emphatically, " Yes, and we will continue to fit for college so long as the school is under the present administration." Both the principal and myself will guarantee that any pupil entering the Freshman class expressing the desire to fit for college, and doing good work in his college preparatory subjects, will be fitted, upon graduation, to enter any classical college in New England. I do wish to say, however, that in order to do this, the pupil must choose his course and stick to it during the four years. That pupil who makes selections from one course or another, choosing, oftentimes, those subjects which are easiest, planning to get his " points " in the simplest way, will be unable to enter college, or, indeed, to fit for college, should he decide in his Senior year that he wished to take the college course. The above warning is important both to pupil and parents; the following advice, " Choose your course and stick to it," is equally important for those pupils who wish to study in any higher institution after High School graduation.

In spite of the fact that a new teacher was added to the school in February, 1915, the number of pupils has increased so much, that several classes are larger than can be handled by one teacher. State requirements prohibit assigning a class of over thirty pupils to one teacher of less than two years' experience. Common sense and good school judgment will agree that no teacher in the High School should be called upon to handle a class of forty-five pupils. We have several classes at the present time so large that they should form two recitation divisions. This is now impossible as it would form more classes than could be managed by the five teachers in the six periods per day. It seems to me inevitable that the natural growth of the school will very soon demand another teacher in the academic subjects.

In closing this topic, let me call attention of all readers to the fact that a new schedule or course of study for the High School is to be placed in the hands of the pupils at the beginning of another school year. It will be advisable for the pupils with their parents to study carefully these courses, making such selections as will not alone fit the pupil for graduation, but will fit him to continue his work or study after completing the High School course.

Central and Walker Schools

At the beginning of the present school year, the "Old High School" building was occupied by the seventh and eighth grades, with the "Overflow" primary room, under the name of the Central School. This building had been remodelled during the summer vacation, a new heating plant installed and the rooms fitted with adjustable furniture adapted to the grades. At the present, three school rooms and a fourth for manual training are occupied.

This change enables us to relieve the congested condition at the Walker School. It is the intention, at the present time, that the Walker School should be limited to its seating capacity, forty-two pupils per room, and other pupils sent to the Central building. The room in the Walker building occupied by the third and fourth grades was fitted with adjustable seats and desks during the summer vacation. This desirable change leaves the Walker School well equipped for primary and intermediate work.

Districts

Three of the four district schools are poorly equipped at the present time. The boy and girl attending one of these primary schools should have as good school furniture, with as good lighting and ventilation, as the pupil in any other part of the town. I recommend that you consider carefully the advisability in the near future of equipping the North, East, and West schools with some form of a modern heating and ventilating system as, for example, one similar to that in use at the South school. The opening of the "Overflow" school at the Central building was intended to help the congestion at the West school as well as at the Walker school by allowing all pupils living on the "State Road" to attend the Walker or the Central building. This arrangement was carried into effect, yet you will see from the table of statistics that the enrollment at the West school remains too large for a four-grade room.

Manual Training

Manual training for the boys, together with sewing for the girls, has been continued this year with marked success in each department. I wish to especially call your attention to the exhibition last June, seen by so many townsmen, of useful articles which have been made both in sewing and woodwork, and to the many ways in the latter subject in which the boys have been working to the advantage of the town in what I term "public projects." I ask your earnest attention to the reports of Miss Strong and Mr. Beresford which follow.

Lunch Serving

The practice of serving warm lunches during the winter term, which I mentioned in my report of last year, has been continued. The High School Lunch Club has been reported at another place. Miss Carter, at the West school, did good service with her primary children throughout the last winter, and thus far through the present winter. Miss Koford, at the Whitefield school, is taking up the matter with marked enthusiasm this term. Money has been raised, some furniture bought and a small room fitted up at one end of the large hall. Oil stoves have been secured, a table has been made and covered with oilcloth. Should you visit this building at a quarter past twelve, any day in winter, you will find the pupils in the primary room served with a cup of hot cocoa, in addition to the cold lunch which they bring from home. You will find the pupils of the grammar school, some twenty who stay at noon, eating their lunches at a table at which the teacher presides, with a cup of hot cocoa and some other warm dish, beside their regular lunch. The pupils enjoy this, they do not hurry the luncheon and I am sure they gain more benefit than from the old-time ten minute cold lunch in the basement.

Exhibit

There was held in June, at the High School Hall, under the direction of Miss Jenkins, an exhibit of the various forms of handwork, including penmanship, carried on in the public schools of the Town. At least one specimen of drawing was shown by every pupil in the grades, while there was an excellent exhibition from the advanced classes in the High School. The department in woodworking and sewing made valuable contributions.

Public exhibition was given by the pupils in business writing, in which your pupils have made marked success, and secured during the year one Palmer diploma, thirty-five Palmer certificates, fifty-eight Palmer progress pins, and one hundred fifty-eight Palmer buttons.

The cooking department also gave an exhibition of its skill.

During the evening a typewriting contest by the pupils of the advanced class in the Commercial course was carried out.

The citizens showed their appreciation by a large attendance. I trust that the high excellence obtained in 1915 may be more than equalled in the coming exhibit in 1916.

Institute

An Institute was held at the High School building December 10, 1915, by the State Board of Education. All the teachers of the district of which Wilmington is a part were present together with visiting teachers from two other towns, some one hundred in all. The topic, Literature, from grade one through the High School, was discussed and illustrated with class work by various teachers during the forenoon. An excellent dinner was served in the Gymnasium at noon. In the afternoon, after a pleasant musical programme, directed by Miss Ethel B. Waite, strong, practical addresses were given by Deputy Commissioner William Orr and Agent Francis S. Wadsworth of the State Board of Education. I have heard from many teachers that the day was not only a pleasant one, but a profitable one to them. The teachers of the district appreciated the courtesy of the Wilmington committee in extending to them the use of the High School building for this important convention.

Statistics

You will notice from the table of statistics that the total enrollment remains about the same as one year ago, while there is a slight gain in the present enrollment.

Please notice that seventy-seven pupils are under seven, the compulsory age, and that there are sixty-one pupils in grade one.

I wish you also to notice the high per cent of attendance, and the fact reported by the teachers, 421 people have visited the schools during the past year.

Conclusion

In conclusion I wish to ask the hearty co-operation of parents and citizens with the teachers in the important task of learning what is best for the child. Neither home nor school alone can succeed in educating the pupil, together home and school, working with intelligent sympathy, one for the other, will mean success. I wish, also, to ask the co-operation of the citizens with the plans and undertakings of those who are called on to administer the school problems. With this co-operation we succeed, without it we fail.

I wish to call your attention to the reports which follow and form a part of this report.

I again desire to thank supervisors and teachers for their loyalty during the past year, and the school committee for its cheerful, hearty support.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES L. RANDALL.

REPORT OF ATTENDANCE OFFICER

Wilmington, Mass., January 7, 1916.

Supr. Randall and Members of School Board:

I hereby submit my second annual report as attendance officer of Wilmington Schools. I have made six calls during the year 1915. In five cases I found some little sickness as the cause of non-attendance.

In the remaining case the boy was told to cut a stick for his mother and she said she would use it upon him. I also had a talk with him and told him what I would do to him if he did not attend school.

Yours respectfully,

SAMUEL R. RICE.

As four pupils have removed from town and seven have left school for various reasons, the present enrollment is 109. The mortality, so called, has not been excessive.

Age Statistics

The average age of the freshman class is fourteen years and six months. This is higher than in Boston (14-3) and in Lawrence (14-5). It may be accounted for by the fact that there are eight pupils over sixteen years of age and eight over fifteen. This apparent retardation is by no means uncommon. The average age of the senior class, assuming that all graduate, will be in June, eighteen years and two months.

Choice of Course of Study

The enrollment cards show that fifty-four pupils chose the Commercial Course; thirty-six the General Course; twenty-three the College Course and seven the Domestic Arts Course. In the freshman class eighteen chose the Commercial Course; thirteen the General Course; eleven the College Course and five the Domestic Arts Course. We would all like to see more pupils headed for college and normal school.

Attendance Record

The attendance for the fall term has been 96.2 per cent with thirty-three pupils not absent or tardy. Notes are required for all cases of absence and tardiness. Opportunity for pupils who have been absent to make up work is given two afternoons each week, at which times the teachers are present. Although compulsory afternoon attendance for delinquent pupils may not be advisable this year, it is undoubtedly true that until some such scheme is inaugurated, the yearly per cent of failures will be large.

School Equipment

The pupils are fortunate in having a modern building, well heated, well ventilated and well lighted. It is a pleasure to work in such a building. At present the laboratories are not used as much as they will be when more science is offered in the curriculum. New apparatus in Physics is needed. A rectifier to change alternating to direct current would help the work in Electricity, for example. The school could make good use of a stereopticon, with reflectoscope, for illustrative work in the auditorium.

The school library, now rather small, should grow by steady yearly additions. I strongly recommend the purchase of a modern encyclopedia, of which a low priced edition is now being extensively advertised. Without such a reference library, composition work in Rhetoricals is sadly handicapped. We expect to make good use, this year, of the town library.

The Commercial department is fairly well equipped and is very popular among the pupils. There are forty-five pupils taking typewriting, out of sixty-three who are eligible for the work.

The Household Arts department, thanks to the Woman's Club, is ably meeting the present requirements. The noon lunches, simple in menu, cheap in price, high in quality, are gladly patronized by the pupils. As most of the girls will be homemakers some day, the value of the work in domestic science cannot be overestimated. I heartily commend the work of this department. Wilmington is ahead of the majority of towns and small cities in Massachusetts in maintaining a Household Arts department for its High School girls.

Rhetoricals

The work in public speaking and composition writing, begun in November, has already borne good fruit. We wish all our pupils to have an audible voice, clear and correct speech, self-control, absence of shyness, initiative and good personal appearance. All of these are cultivated by practice in rhetoricals. A subject of current interest is assigned for the rhetoricals each week, with appropriate sub-topics and recitations. A cordial invitation is extended to parents and patrons of the High School to attend these exercises, every Thursday at 12.30 P.M. We are anticipating a public prize-speaking contest to take place in the late winter.

Athletics

When I come to the topic of "ex-curriculum" activities, I am reminded of what G. Stanley Hall has written, "We have not sufficiently realized that the young must have excitement. There must be a zest for reading, a swing and a tilt to the school music, keen and enthusiastic competition in our athletic meets, before our boys and girls are getting the most out of life in the 'teens.' All this helps to eliminate sex and moral problems."

The outlook in athletics is excellent. We had fall baseball games with class competition, football practice, but no outside games, and this winter we are playing basketball. Our Field Day, October 12, profitable financially, developed keen rivalry and excellent competition among the boys. A beginning in gymnastic work has been made by the purchase of Indian clubs, to be followed by dumb bells, wands and other simple apparatus. We plan to have an indoor meet some time in February.

The girls have the use of the gymnasium twice a week, at which times they have played basketball under the direction of the assistant teachers.

The boys' athletic association, in good condition at present, has held monthly meetings. The officers are, President, Howard Bedell; Vice-President, James White; Secretary, Norman Perry; and Treasurer, Principal H. F. Bates. We intend to raise the necessary funds this winter to outfit our baseball nine with new uniforms and other necessary equipment.

Social Life

The ideal High School is the center of the intellectual, the athletic and also the social activities of its pupils. At school receptions, entertainments and dances, properly conducted under the supervision of the faculty, parents, teachers and pupils become better acquainted, while the latter learn the arts, customs and habits of good society. Our High School will do more along these lines in the future than it has in the past. The auditorium, with its new piano secured through the gifts of friends of the school, offers us the finest possible place for social activities.

Scholarship

Our standard of scholarship is about the average for a school that sends very few of its graduates to college. Out of thirteen graduates of 1915, but one went to a higher institution. If we could have a larger group of students, headed directly for normal school or college, maintaining always an average rank of 85 per cent or better, I think our standard would improve.

The general tone and spirit of the school is good. The "esprit de corps" of the teachers is commendable. We have the State certificate for normal schools. Our next step will be to secure the approval of the New England College Entrance Board.

The principal is in his office at the High School building daily from 8.25 to 9.10 A.M. at which time he will be pleased to see parents and patrons of the school.

High School Graduation

The graduation exercises of the Class of 1915 were held in the Congregational Church, Wednesday evening, June 30. The following pupils received diplomas:

College Preparatory Course: Ralph Leon Buck, Clyde Holt, Charles Michael Frolio and Lawrence Harrison Kincaid. General Course: Royal Robert Jordan, Joseph Bernard McMahon, and Edith Robinson Lundgren; and Commercial

Course: Ruth Engla Bloomquist, Helen Fletcher Roberts, Mildred Mary Frolio, and Edwin Joseph Twomey. Certificates were granted to Emma C. Baxter and Romaine Gerard Cortland Nichols.

In closing allow me to thank you and the committee for the favorable circumstances under which I have been permitted to begin my work in Wilmington. The outlook is indeed pleasing for a High School in Wilmington, which, holding fast to the best traditions and noblest achievements of the past, looks forward to higher standards and greater efforts in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

HORACE FREEMAN BATES,

Principal of the High School.

SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL ARTS REPORT

Mr. Charles L. Randall,

Superintendent of Schools, Wilmington, Mass.:

Dear Sir: I herewith submit my second annual report for your consideration.

In the primary grades the work since September has followed the same general plan that was used last year and has included nature drawing with colored crayons, color study, free-hand paper cutting, with special work at Thanksgiving and Christmas appropriate to the season. During January the work will be mostly illustrative, training the children to express, with pencils and scissors, their sports and incidents of everyday life. Construction will be taken up in February and March and several projects such as furniture for a doll house, a Dutch village, an Indian village and a farm will be worked out. This affords a study of measurements and requires accurate use of the ruler. In April, May and June the program will include illustration, free-hand drawing of objects, design and nature work.

In the grammar grades the work this fall began with nature study rendered in pencil and color. During November and December a good deal of time was devoted to object drawing, the principles of perspective and the grouping of objects. In the seventh and eighth grades some attractive landscapes were made. During the spring months the outline will include construction problems, applied design, color study, interior decoration and nature drawing. One of the new features of drawing work is the sand-table project, carried out on a larger scale. In a large exhibition which I visited last spring, several of these projects were shown. One was a quarry made by pupils who lived near it and another worked out by pupils of a fishing town showed part of the village, the wharf and boats. The grammar grades of the Whitefield School are at work on a similar project,—the tannery. The buildings are being constructed of paper and are made as near like the original as possible.

The High School drawing is divided into two sections, the mechanical and the free-hand classes. The mechanical division includes all of the freshmen boys and several sophomores, juniors and seniors. We have studied view drawings, geometric drawing, working drawings, developments, perspective, orthographic projection and architecture. We will continue along these lines and also take up intersection of solids, shadows and machine drawing. The free-hand class includes all of the freshmen girls and several from the upper classes. Nature drawing and painting, still life groups done in charcoal and drawing from casts have been taken up this fall. Interior decoration, applied design and pencil technique will be carefully studied during the rest of the year.

The High School drawing is naturally the most advanced of all the drawing in town and unfortunately receives the least amount of instruction. The supervisor's time is so limited that each division of the High School drawing classes has a forty minute period once a week. This time is not sufficient to gain the results that should be acquired in a High School of this size and standing. This can only be remedied by extending the supervisor's time another day.

Last June an exhibition of drawing, sewing, cooking, writing and wood-work was held in the High School Hall. It was well attended both afternoon and evening and the parents had the pleasure of seeing their children's work. The High School drawing was especially good. The sewing and wood-work were exhibited on tables in the center of the hall and screens, most of which were made by manual training boys, filled the wall spaces and were covered with drawings. We are planning for another exhibit in June which we hope will be much larger and better than that of last year.

I have found the teachers very willing and helpful in carrying on the work and I sincerely thank them and you, Superintendent, for your co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE A. JENKINS.

REPORT OF INSTRUCTOR OF MANUAL TRAINING

To the Superintendent of Schools.

Sir: Kindly find herewith my second report as Instructor of Manual Training.

Last year I tried to, and have, to a certain extent, had the pupils realize the value of measuring with accuracy, any project which they were making. The pupils are very much interested in the work, and I think showed some very satisfactory results which were shown at the exhibit last year.

Perhaps the best report that I could make would be to name some of the private and public work accomplished by the pupils.

At first I found it necessary to have the pupils adapt themselves to the use of the square, saw and plane, by planing the edge of a board straight and squaring the end, then cutting it off to the line. After some exercise the following are the results to which those principles were adapted, the pupils making for their use during the school term:

Step-ladders, feed hoppers, flower trellis, small benches, center table, checker table, flower stand, saw horses, window ventilating boards, bread boards, cutting boards, dog kennel, chicken brooder, box trap, feed boxes, match boxes, knife trays, wagon seat, wagon body, wood barrow, towel rollers, shelf rack and shelves, medicine chest, window and piazza screens, ironing boards, guinea pig house, pattern for a branch pipe and various other articles.

The public work accomplished was done principally for the schools in the following lines:

For the Grammar Grades

Nine diploma frames, seven frames 12 inches long by five inches high for exhibition purposes, scraping, sandpapering and refinishing ninety-three desks and painting stands, and four step-ladders.

For the Domestic Department

Five fly screens, one screen door, two scouring boards, one shelf, one lunch table, two tables repaired and refinished.

For the Sewing Department

One ironing board, one sewing table, one folding screen.

For the High School

Thirty chairs furnished with rubber bumpers, one ladder 11 feet, 6 inches, for the Janitor, three typewriting tables repaired, eight window guards for gymnasium.

For the Manual Training Department

Three work benches, one lumber rack.

In the seventh and eighth grade work we are following last year's programme and also advancing in a more difficult line of work, building tool cabinets, tool boxes, cabinets for laboratory, sewing school and eighth grade purposes.

We are making screens for the Grammar School building. We also have forty-two desks to refinish, which, with other work we expect to accomplish before the end of the school term, will make a fair showing at the exhibition.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM F. BERESFORD.

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Mr. C. L. Randall,

Superintendent of Schools, Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Sir: The following is a report from the music department for the year 1915:

There have been very noticeable gains in sight-reading and familiarity of technical construction of music this past year and there are also some places that can be improved upon in order to obtain more uniformity of work throughout the town. In order to bring the music to a still finer basis, individual work will be done in the future with special material and plans for its growth up through all the grades. For the past two years we have been establishing a system that has been confined to class drill while the principles were being learned, now we shall be able to go still farther and develop the individual child to a greater extent. It seems advisable to begin this, under the present conditions, in the third, fourth and fifth grades.

I again urge that every schoolroom should have one or more painted staves upon the blackboard. This would make the work much easier both for teacher and pupil.

Last winter an operetta, "A Merry Company," was given by pupils from the seventh and eighth grades which was entirely successful. Through the generous patronage of our townspeople we were able to purchase a school victrola, which is proving its value in many ways. Later it can be of considerable assistance in folk dances and games, as some of the teachers are interested and anxious to introduce folk music in the near future. Another entertainment similar to that of last year is in preparation and by this means we hope to substantially increase our number of victrola records.

Possibly the most encouraging improvement both of spirit and ability is noticed in the High School chorus. Not very much has been said about tone quality, that will come later under still different conditions, but the singing assumes more of what a High School chorus is expected to produce and as a result we have been able to accomplish a fair amount of work in a shorter time than formerly. We now have a program of interesting selections nearly completed. It is my plan to do special work with a girls', also a boys' chorus.

Everywhere there is a splendid attitude toward public school music and every teacher is working, I believe, to procure the very best possible results with the material at hand.

I desire to thank you and your committee for the hearty support and helpful suggestions during the past year.

Respectfully yours,

MABELLE PROCTOR COUNCE.

REPORT OF TEACHER OF SEWING

Mr. C. L. Randall,

Superintendent of Schools, Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Sir: I hereby submit my report of work in sewing, as follows:

During the year 1915 I have tried to make the course in sewing very practical. The children have applied their knowledge of the various stitches in making useful articles and wearing apparel, viz: towels, pillow cases, table linen, dresses, rompers, aprons, and underwear. They have also mended the school flags.

I plan to devote a part of the remainder of this year to the dressing of children from infancy up, using patterns, thereby giving a working knowledge which will enable them to help their parents in the dressing of the younger children and themselves. One day of each month will be set aside for mending, at which time I should be glad to have the children bring articles from home for this purpose.

I wish to express my thanks to the teachers and parents for their kindness and co-operation, and to you and the committee for your interest in the work.

Yours respectfully,

CORA E. STRONG.

SCHOOL PHYSICIAN'S REPORT

To the School Board of Wilmington:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit my report as School Physician for 1915-16. I have visited all of the schools, but have not as yet examined each pupil separately, owing to the prevalence of the grippe. We have been fortunate during the past year in the matter of contagious diseases. Three cases of scarlet fever have been reported; three of measles; none of diphtheria; there has been an epidemic of varicella (chicken-pox) in the West school. This is not a particularly dangerous disease, but the State Board requires that it be reported. It does interfere with the school attendance.

I find that many more of the children have had their teeth cared for during the past year. Advice as to care of teeth should be iterated and reiterated. I have caused to be printed and placed in the several schoolrooms, some simple health rules, which I hope will be observed by teachers as well as scholars. I suggest that means be provided for the scholars to wash their faces and hands, and that the teachers see to it that these are used frequently. Hot water and soap in abundance should be provided. Cleanliness is the best preventative of disease.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL T. BUZZELL, M.D.,

School Physician.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
TOWN ACCOUNTANT
FOR THE
Financial Year, Ending December 31, 1915
SHOWING
APPROPRIATIONS, RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS
STATEMENT OF TOWN DEBT AND BALANCE SHEET.

REPORT OF TOWN ACCOUNTANT

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Herewith I hand you my report as Town Accountant for the financial year ending December 31, 1915, showing appropriations, receipts and payments; statement of Town Debt and balance sheet giving financial condition of the Town December 31, 1915.

It will be noted by referring to Schedule 2, Balance Account, into which have been carried the balances of the different accounts, that notwithstanding a deficiency in Revenue and a shortage in estimated receipts of $4,557.39, the credit balances of sundry accounts exceed this amount by $916.41, which has been carried to the credit of Excess and Deficiency Account, as it appears on Balance Sheet. These figures speak for themselves and require no further comment.

The books and accounts of the Tax Collector, Trustees of Trust Funds, Treasurer of the S. D. J. Carter Free Lecture Committee and Town Clerk's Dog Tax Records have been audited and found correct.

The Town valuation book was duly examined, and commitment book compared with same before delivery of latter to the Collector.

The Treasurer's vouchers and books have been checked, and the cash balance in Town Treasury, as rendered in his account, $6,125.38, is correct.

HARRY R. DEMING,
Town Accountant.

REPORT OF FOREST WARDEN

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen and Citizens of Wilmington :

I submit the following report of the Forest Warden for the year ending December 31, 1915.

Number of applications for permits to build a fire in the open, 267; permits granted, 252; number of calls from fire look-out stations, 39; all of which were investigated. Twenty-three calls were answered for grass and brush fires, an unusually large number compared with previous years owing to the severe drouth during the early spring months.

We now have a well equipped department with all articles necessary for forest fire work. I have investigated all fires and have sent reports of same to the State Forester.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER A. McGRANE,

Forest Warden.

State, Town and County

Lowell Street, 2,200 feet macadam, cement beam bridge and 18 inch tile culvert, 120 feet long. Total cost, $6,540.00.

Our streets are in a fair condition, but by decreasing the amount raised each year they cannot but show the effect. We were unfortunate again this year to have $3,390 taken from our appropriation.

We have placed catchbasins and drains in needed places, which has been well appreciated.

The crushing plant which was bought by the Selectmen proved to be a complete running plant and a great help to the work on Lowell Street. With a slight increase caused by the wet weather while the work at the bridge was in progress over the special appropriation of $2,000 from the Town and the like sum from the State and County, the macadam on Lowell Street was extended 2,200 feet, the abutments at the bridge were extended and pointed and a cement beam bridge. We also put in an 18 inch tile culvert, 120 feet long, beyond the layout of 1915.

Respectfully submitted,

W. B. McINTOSH,
Superintendent of Streets.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen, Wilmington, Mass.:

I wish at this time to submit my Report as Inspector of Animals. During the year, the annual inspection of each individual stable and animal was postponed owing to the outbreak of foot and mouth disease, which played such havoc and caused so much loss to the whole country.

At the present, no cases being known to exist, orders have been received to proceed with the annual inspection, which will be completed as soon as possible and reports made out in compliance with such orders.

While the whole number of cattle kept in town are perhaps decreased in number, the places or stables where kept have in my opinion increased. Several people have purchased a cow for home use which, of course, necessitates a detailed report of each stable or enclosure, some thirty questions being asked regarding each one. The number of cattle shipped into the town by dealers has been more than previous, which no doubt was in a way due to Brighton being closed for so long a time, certain sections about us being free.

All cases of suspicion have been carefully looked over and disposed of as deemed best.

I want all to feel at liberty to report any cases of suspicion, bearing in mind the good of our community and especially that of our food supply.

I wish to thank all who have helped make the duties as inspector less arduous, and who have complied with suggestions made for the betterment of your stock. I will try and not suggest changes of an expensive nature, but what are really essential for the betterment of stock, food supply and pocket-book.

Yours very truly

C. H. PLAYDON, M.D.V.,

Inspector.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF MEATS AND PROVISIONS

Wilmington, January 31, 1916.

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen :

Gentlemen: I beg leave to submit my annual report. At the beginning of the year, two licenses were given for slaughtering. During the early autumn, Sebastian Becker removed his business to Woburn which was practically all the slaughtering in town, leaving Asa W. Boutwell the only licensed butcher in town.

During the year I have examined at the licensed slaughter houses, 75 beef; 426 hogs; 387 veal, and of that number I have condemned 3 beef, 21 hogs, 14 veal, as unfit for food. These carcasses were sent to the Whitman Pratt rendering works, Woburn.

Respectfully submitted,

J. HOWARD EAMES

Inspector.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen and Citizens of Wilmington:

During the year 1915, the street trees were less fortunate than in past years, much damage being due to high winds and storms. As in previous years much trimming has been done and dead trees removed.

Young trees were set out on Lowell Street from Perry's Corner to West Street and some were replaced on Burlington Avenue and Middlesex Avenue.

The trees have been cared for in regard to the elm leaf beetle; all the street trees and those requested by property owners were sprayed and found satisfactory, that being the only effective means.

The gypsy and brown-tail moths are handled under State supervision and seem to be suppressed effectively.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER A. McGRANE,
Tree Warden.

REPORT OF SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of the Town of Wilmington:

The year 1916, destined to go down into history as one of the most noted of the Christian Era, has brought more than the usual number of changes in the administration of the public schools of our town.

At the beginning of the year, Miss Agnes Hayward of Pepperell was elected as teacher of English in the High School to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss R. M. Giles. Miss Hayward has given good satisfaction in her position and we trust we may retain her services in the future.

At the annual meeting of the Joint-Committee of the Superintendency District, a proposal for the dissolution of the District was brought forward by the towns of Dracut and Tewksbury. There was a feeling on the part of those towns that the district was too large and that they were not getting the attention necessary. While we were perfectly satisfied with conditions as they were, we did not desire to remain in a district in which we were not wanted. The district was therefore dissolved by an unanimous vote.

During the month of June an attempt was made by your committee to form a new district consisting of the towns of Topsfield, Middleton and Wilmington. This idea was abandoned as it was deemed unwise to take the two towns, Topsfield and Middleton, from the same district.

Late in August, a district was formed consisting of Boxford, Middleton and Wilmington. This district having received the approval of the State Board of Education, the Committees of the several towns met at Middleton to apportion the expense and elect a Superintendent.

It was voted that Wilmington should pay five-tenths, Boxford three-tenths, and Middleton two-tenths of the expense.

Mr. James A. MacDougall of Taunton was selected from a number of applicants to serve as Superintendent at a salary of nineteen hundred dollars per year. Mr. MacDougall comes to us with years of experience as a school principal and superintendent and we feel confident that he will maintain the same high degree of success as was obtained by our former officials.

In regard to the financial aspect of the change, we will say that the net expense to the Town will be somewhat less than the former district. At the close of the school year in June a number of resignations were received.

Miss Batchelder who had been at the head of the Commercial Department of the High School for the past four years accepted a position in the Reading High School.

Miss Everett, the instructor in the Domestic Science Department, received an appointment at Belmont at a largely increased salary.

Miss Alice Rigby of Melrose was elected to the Commercial Department and Miss Alva Chisolm of Malden to the Domestic Science Department.

Some weeks after school closed, Mr. Bates, principal of the High School, resigned. Mr. Bates was elected at Maynard with a larger school and increased salary.

From a list of forty applicants, Mr. W. F. Allen of Goldsboro, N. C., was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Allen comes to us highly recommended and judging from the success obtained up to the present time, we feel assured that the selection will prove a wise one.

Among the teachers of the Grade Schools, there were fewer changes. Miss Florence Koford of the Whitefield and Miss Jessie Carter of the West School severed their connection as teachers in our schools. These young ladies, successful teachers for the past three years, have retired from the profession to accept positions as home makers and we wish them every success in their new walks of life.

The vacancy at the West School was filled by the election of Miss May Lund, Salem '16, and at the Whitefield by the election of Miss Helen Gibbs, Salem '16.

Various complaints having been made by the parents in regard to the heating of the District Schools, we have prepared an article in relation to same, which will come before you at the March meeting. The system we have in mind is the same as has been in use at the South School for the past eighteen years.

Plans and estimates of the probable cost will be submitted at the Town Meeting.

With this exception the graded school buildings are in good condition and will require only minor repairs.

The roof of the High School is leaking and the plastering is becoming badly discolored. Your Committee have tried to have it remedied, but the contractors seemed unwilling or unable to remedy the defects.

While two different bonds were given to insure a satisfactory job, there was a question as to the rights of the Town under those bonds. We were unable to enforce them legally without good counsel. This being denied us, by a vote of the Town at a Special Meeting, the matter was dropped.

The matter should receive immediate attention if the interior of the building is to be preserved.

Conditions in the basement are also very unsatisfactory. Last spring we had from ten inches to a foot of water in the boiler room and gymnasium. In order to keep up the fires we were obliged to have a pump working night and day.

After consultation with the Board of Selectmen, we engaged an engineer to prepare plans for a series of drains which we felt would take care of the water. These plans, submitted to the voters of the Town, were rejected and a proposition of waterproofing was brought forward.

At the present time and with such information as we have at hand, we cannot recommend the expenditure of a thousand dollars with no surety of success.

Our experience with the roof has rendered us skeptical as to the value of a guarantee for a tight job of waterproofing.

We would call also your attention to the fire well near the High School. This reservoir is covered with a plank platform which is getting weak from exposure to weather and we recommend that a concrete curb with an iron manhole be placed about it. We trust that the amount asked for will be granted so that this portion of the grounds may be made to correspond with the remainder. In accordance with a vote passed in March, 1916, a report will be submitted by the Committee in regard to the transportation of pupils.

As the transportation of pupils upon the lines indicated in this vote will require considerable expense, we trust that the citizens will consider the matter carefully before taking action.

In making up our budget for 1917, we were obliged to increase the amount for fuel and books and supplies.

The advance in price of all kinds of paper stock and the scarcity of coal rendered this imperative.

The routine work of the various schools will be more fully explained by the reports of the several principals and supervisors to which we would call your attention and ask a careful examination of the same.

The grading of the High School lot has been completed and the final payment made.

We desire to thank the citizens and organizations who aided us in the improvement of the grounds by the planting of trees and shrubs.

We trust that the example thus set will induce others to assist in future years, so that the building and grounds will become an ornament and credit to the Town.

The fencing of the Whitefield and West Schools has been completed in accordance with the vote of the Town and a detailed financial report will be found of same.

In closing we desire to thank the citizens for their loyal support in the last year and solicit a continuance of the same in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

Signed,

HOWARD M. HORTON,
ELLEN S. PERRY,
PHILIP B. BUZZELL.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Wilmington.

Dear Madam and Sirs I herewith present my first annual report, it being the twenty-first in the series of superintendents' reports.

It was after the opening of schools in September that I took over the duties of the office and accordingly the work of getting started had been done by Mr. Randall. The teachers had been chosen and were in their places; text-books and supplies had been purchased and distributed. It was for me merely to see that the machinery was kept running. My report therefore will be brief.

Permit me to compliment you, and to congratulate the Town, upon the excellent general condition in which I found the schools. The new principal of the High School had already got a good knowledge of the conditions in the school and was studying with earnestness and energy the best methods of solving the various problems as they arose. He appeared to be getting the co-operation of his assistants, and good will and a good degree of effort from the pupils. His chief difficulty at this time grew out of the fact that the laboratory equipment and the text-books in some departments were inadequate and the appropriation for text-books and supplies was practically spent. These problems are being gradually solved.

The general aim is to put the work of the school on such a standard as to merit the approval of the College Entrance Certificate Board. Although approval by this board of the colleges does not necessarily mean a superior school, or lack of approval an inferior one, it does mean a decided advantage, because most New England colleges without examinations admit graduates of approved schools. Approval is based principally upon thoroughness of work, and the continued study of a subject for such a period as to insure a fairly intensive knowledge of it. Continued approval is contingent upon the satisfactory work in the colleges of the graduates of the school.

The quality of the work done in the grades is, in general, highly commendable. The attitude of the teachers, almost without exception, indicates a devotion to their work and a loyal interest in the progress and growth of their pupils. This spirit on the part of the teachers has become the spirit of the schools, and there is apparent an atmosphere of self-reliance combined with co-operation — an ambition to do good work and to help others to do well. Even when there has been a spirit of dogmatic authority it has generally been so tempered by one of justice and kindness that pupils interpreted it rightly as one of interest in their well-being.

The end and aim of all school work, to be of value to the community, is, and must be, a preparation for citizenship, and the essentials of good citizenship are loyalty to constituted authority and the ability for independent application to duty, combined with a spirit of interest in the welfare of the community. Any educational system, however efficient it may be in mental training, is a failure if any of these aims are lost sight of or neglected. The college graduate, however brilliant, is a failure if he does not have the ability to work, and if he does not have an interest in the welfare of the town and of the state in which he lives.

It is often difficult to get pupils and even parents to realize that school work should be work. Giving up a subject because it is hard and substituting something easier is one of the steps in training for failure. Success in any line is the result of persistent, continued effort along a chosen line. A father once said to me, "I had to work like a dog to get anywhere and I am going to give my children an education so that they won't have to work." I trust that the schools were able to counteract the ill effects of the father's attitude.

The aim of the work of the first three grades is to give the children the mechanics of reading, number, writing, and give some training of the nervous system for the purpose of co-ordinating the activities of hand and voice with those of eye and ear. During the first year especial emphasis is laid upon reading and story-telling, and upon giving the child concrete work in number. During the second and third years this aim continues but broadens so that by the time he enters the fourth grade the child should be able to read readily and fluently and should have the ability to work out the pronunciation of unfamiliar words. He should have the ability to do addition and subtraction without counting, and should also know readily the multiplication combinations to ten times ten or possibly to twelve times twelve, and simple division. In writing he should have the letter forms and he should be able to spell the common words of his own vocabulary.

In the fourth year he is taught to use these "tools" for practical purposes. He begins to read history for information; he uses the number facts in the solution of easy problems, and he writes the stories that he has been giving orally. In addition he is drilled in reading for vocabulary, pronunciation, fluency, and articulation; in number combinations for readiness and accuracy. His writing and spelling will go on for training in ability to use these in expressing his thoughts on paper. His work in singing, drawing, and nature study has been laying a foundation for later work.

From the beginning of the fifth year the aims of the teachers should be to give the child as great a fund of knowledge of history, geography, literature, etc., as possible, and by means of the teaching of these to give him the power to acquire information for himself and to apply what he has acquired to such problems as may come into his life. Furthermore the method should be such that his interest in these subjects will continue after he leaves school. He should carry away not merely the knowledge gained but a compelling desire and ambition to acquire more. Life is made up largely of habits. When a pupil leaves school he should, therefore, have well established habits of industry, of thoughtfulness, of fairmindedness, of honesty of thinking. Failures in life, whether they consist in definite violations of law or whether they consist in a lack of sufficient force of will to act positively, are almost invariably due to inability to think straight—to correctly estimate values. How much of this crookedness of thinking is due to shirking in school and trumping up excuses for failure or having them trumped up, rather than accepting honest failure!

The school work in Wilmington is being done in an honest and wholesome way. Children are getting to a good degree a training for the establishing of right habits of thought and action.

I desire to thank citizens, school committee and teachers for the cordial friendliness and co-operation that have been accorded us.

Respectfully submitted,

J. A. MACDOUGALL,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF ATTENDANCE OFFICER

Wilmington, Mass., January 8, 1917.

Superintendent MacDougall and School Board:

I hereby submit my third annual report as attendance officer of Wilmington Schools. I have had but two calls. One boy was discharged from school and has gone to work. The other case was necessary detention.

Yours respectfully,

SAMUEL R. RICE.

THE REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

To the Superintendent and School Committee:

I am submitting to you a brief report of the Wilmington High School during the time that I have had the honor of being principal. This report must of necessity be brief and will deal more with present and future conditions than with the past.

Our High School is composed of two distinct classes of pupils. In the first place there is a class of students who lack knowledge of their own ability and who have not yet found out their own desires. Since they have an abundance of time and means at their command, their education has been extended beyond the compulsory school age. It is not necessary for them to determine at this time what they will do in the future — keep on with their studies in school or choose some vocation. They are of the opinion, and they have a right to be, that the High School will be of assistance to them in discovering themselves.

This class of students has been subdivided into four sections, the fourth and third-year boys constituting section one, the fourth and third year girls making up section two, and the second and first year pupils forming sections three and four respectively. To each of these, a teacher has been assigned whose duty it is to consult and confer with all individuals in her respective section so that, if possible, the powers and permanent interests of all pupils may be discovered — in other words — to assist the pupils to self-discovery.

There is a second class of students who have some definite aim and purpose in life. They are eager to succeed and to achieve their ambitions, and what is more natural than that they should expect their High School course to assist them in some specific training and teaching so that their aims and purposes may be accomplished? The students of this class are subdivided into four groups. In the first place, there are those who, for divers reasons, contemplate only a short course in the High School. They desire a brief but broad education adapted to their several interests, or a certain proficiency which may be helpful to them in their future vocations. There are many and varied reasons which mould their aims, chief among which are limited means, indifference, failure to appreciate an extended education, mental or physical weakness, and sometimes a weakness of moral fiber. It is right that this student should receive as quickly as possible what he is justly entitled to so that he may leave school; or his ambition should be so aroused by frequent consultations with his adviser that his course of procedure will be changed.

A second group consists of those students who spend the customary four years in the High School and who expect the school to train them well for citizenship and make them efficient in their future vocations. These pupils expect a course of study fruitful in training, with some vocational instruction.

A third group is made up of students who will be homemakers of the future. Their means and resources are such that it is not necessary for them to engage in wage-earning occupations. They expect the High School to give them a broad, general culture as well as an opportunity to become proficient in planning, supervising, and conducting a home.

There is a fourth group of students who look upon the High School as a preparatory school for the colleges and universities. Rightly do these students insist that the program of studies shall be so arranged that it will contain those subjects required for admission by the colleges. Not only must these subjects be taught, but as much emphasis should be given to them as to the other branches. During the present year every effort will be expended toward making the school more proficient so that the certificate privilege may be secured from the New England College Entrance Certificate Board. To this end more stress is being placed upon the College Course although the other courses are receiving the attention which they justly deserve. Many pupils have been encouraged to change their courses so they may continue their education after finishing here. This does not necessarily mean that they are being encouraged to become professional men but to perfect themselves in their future vocation by a more prolonged schooling.

Wilimington has a most excellent High School building and one that has been exceedingly well planned for the departmental instruction of the modern High School. The building is exceptionally well equipped for a small school for the household arts, the sciences, and the commercial branches. Under these conditions there is no reason why the school cannot be made one of the best small High Schools in the State.

In a High School with but one session daily, it is absolutely necessary that a large amount of the preparation for the daily recitations be done at home. With the co-operation of the parents there is no reason why a pupil by regular attendance and daily effort cannot graduate here as well prepared for life as in some of the larger High Schools.

In conclusion I desire to express my appreciation to the untiring efforts of the teachers who have been associated and have co-operated with me as well as to the school officials and superintendent for so heartily aiding me in my work.

Respectfully submitted,

W. F. ALLEN,
Principal.

REPORT OF THE SUPERVISOR OF MANUAL ARTS

Mr. MacDougall,
Superintendent of Schools, Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Sir: I herewith submit my report of the year's work in drawing and the manual arts.

The work this year has followed quite closely the plan that was laid out last year; in fact during the three years that I have been teaching here I have followed quite closely the outline that is prescribed and published by the Massachusetts Normal Art School.

During the fall, nature drawing in pencil and color was taken up in all the grades and in the High School; in November and December object drawing, color study and construction, with appropriate Thanksgiving and Christmas lessons.

In the primary grades much time during the winter months is given to illustrative drawing and paper cutting. The children like to illustrate their games, winter sports and nursery rhymes both with crayons and scissors. Construction work and sand-table projects will be taken up in February and March.

The intermediate and grammar grades study design and perspective during the winter months. Construction work also has a place on the outline and some very good history notebook covers, stationery cases, brush broom holders, etc., were made this year. Most of the pupils are especially interested in this manual work and many, who have not a talent for drawing and find it hard, excel in the manual work and have something useful to show for their efforts. The outline for the spring months includes design, color study and nature drawing.

The High School drawing is divided into two sections, the mechanical, and the freehand classes. All the freshmen boys and several from the other classes take this drawing. The course laid out includes, view drawing, printing, working drawings, perspective, orthographic projection, intersection of solids, shadows, architecture and machine drawing. The freehand class includes girls from all the classes. Nature drawing and painting, still-life groups rendered in charcoal, drawing from casts in charcoal, applied design, pencil technique, interior decoration and stenciling have been studied.

Last June an exhibition of drawing, sewing, writing and wood-work was held in the High School building. It gave the townspeople an opportunity to see what was being done along these lines. Several sand-table projects and doll houses done by the primary grades and outside schools attracted much attention. The pupils of the grammar grades of the Whitefield made the buildings of the tannery out of paper.

I thank the teachers and the Superintendent for their hearty co-operation in contributing to the success of the year's work.

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE A. JENKINS.

REPORT OF INSTRUCTOR OF MANUAL TRAINING

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I have the honor to submit to you my third annual report of the Manual Training School.

The work in this department is continuing much the same as in the previous school year. While the number of pupils is not quite as large as last year, the attendance is better and we are making some advancement over last year's work. The advancement is not, however, as much as I would like.

While I agree that anything in the wood-working line can be made by hand, with the tools we have at present it would be quite a proposition for a boy to make any round or circular article. Practically all work consists of flat or square surfaces.

What I would advocate at the present time is a foot power lathe with a jig saw attachment. I am sure it would create considerable interest in the older boys and cause a larger number of boys to attend this department.

As I understand the matter at the present time, it is not the lack of interest in the work that causes a smaller number of High School boys to attend the wood-working classes. A number of boys have spoken to me about taking one period in wood-working, but the periods being forty minutes, the question arises whether it would be worth while. I think not, as they would no more than get started on their projects when it would be time to go back to their rooms.

The attendance from the seventh and eighth grades is about the same and the work is along similar lines to last year.

The work that the High School boys are doing and what we expect to accomplish before the end of the school term will make a good showing at the exhibition.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM F. BERESFORD.

Cambridge, Mass., January 25, 1917.

REPORT OF SUPERVISOR OF MUSIC

Mr. J. A. MacDougall,
Superintendent of Schools, Wilmington, Mass.

Dear Sir: I herewith submit a report of music for the year 1916.

The past year has been a pleasant one in many ways. With the untiring efforts of the grade teachers we have been able to perfect the sight-reading, knowledge of the various technical principles and the ability to apply them, and we now have a graded music system that is getting results although it has required close application of both teachers and pupils.

Some of the schools need more books to replace old ones, while in others the increase of membership has made it necessary for two pupils to share one book. In order to keep this music system in good working order the pupils must not be obliged to leave a book until it has been thoroughly mastered. In one building two rooms are using the same books. This is extremely inconvenient and confusing and often wastes time and increases the wear upon the book.

In May, pupils of the Center School presented an operetta, also some folk dances with the Victor, and enough money was secured to purchase more records. The Victor was purchased the preceding year with funds from a similar entertainment. This year pupils from the Walker building are planning an operetta and hope to purchase a school Victor.

The High School has grown in numbers and in spirit. To encourage the latter the chorus has sung music that would make a direct appeal to the average American boy and girl of today. We have made an attempt at male chorus singing and hope to develop something further in that line in the future. Last year the girls' chorus did creditable work.

With the three buildings containing upper grammar grades which are visited once in two weeks, I find it impossible to visit the out-schools as often as I would like. An extra half day per week would solve this very easily and I hope this matter will receive your consideration.

I desire to thank the school officials who are concerned for the welfare of the music department of our schools. It means much to many boys and girls who receive their only musical instruction in the public schools.

Yours sincerely,

MABELLE PROCTOR COUNCE,
Supervisor of Music.

REPORT OF FOREST WARDEN

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit the following report of the Forest Warden for the year ending December 31, 1916.

Number of applications for permits to build a fire in the open, 256; permits granted, 247.

The number of fires this department was called to was nineteen, eleven of which were caused by locomotive sparks and the bills for the same sent to the railroad for settlement.

We desire to call the attention of the public to the provisions of Chapter 101, Sections 1, 2 and 3, Acts of 1914, regarding disposal of brush and slash resulting from cutting of wood or timber, which provides that every owner who cuts or permits to be cut timber or wood on land owned or controlled by him must clear a strip not exceeding forty feet from the woodland of another person, highway or railroad location as the local Warden shall determine and within such time and manner as he shall determine .

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER A. McGRANE,
Forest Warden of Wilmington.

January 31, 1917.

Lowell Street, 2,167 feet asphalt macadam. Total cost, $6,260.61.

Owing to the advanced price in labor, material and roller hire, 2,167 feet of asphalt macadam was completed out of 25,000 feet as laid out by the Highway Engineers.

It would be a good investment for the Town to buy a steam roller the coming year, as we have now 3,315 feet more to complete, the macadam to the Reading Town line, and also another piece to build on Salem Street according to a decree from the County Commissioners.

We have built guard rails on Clark Street, Shawsheen Avenue, Lowell Street and Woburn Street.

We have placed two new catch basins and drains on Salem Street, one on Middlesex Avenue, and one on Chestnut Street.

Respectfully submitted,

W. B. McINTOSH,

Superintendent of Streets.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF ANIMALS

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen: I herewith submit my annual report as Inspector of Animals for the year ending December 31, 1916.

According to instructions I have visited, inspected and reported all premises where neat cattle, sheep or swine were kept upon the date of inspection.

Several places where stock was previously kept were found to have discontinued and others where none were kept have been added to the list.

Any cases of a suspicious nature were carefully watched and examined and, if investigation warranted, were destroyed and premises cleaned up and disinfected.

It is ordered by the Commissioner of Animal Industry to pay particular attention this year to swine, as very gratifying results have been obtained from the work of vaccination against hog cholera which is one, if not the worst, disease to which the pork industry of any State is liable; once this disease becomes established in a herd there is little or no help for them, for practically all will succumb or be of little value if saved. Prophylactic measures are to be taken, and hogs treated when small will mature faster and better at less cost.

Most owners will admit the fact when they have pneumonia, measles, swill poison, or anything else, but will hold up their hands and fight if cholera is suggested; now why not admit one thing as well as another; they die either way and oftener than not cholera does it.

Some of the most important factors in treating any disease are proper light and ventilation and cleanliness; any and all are inexpensive.

Your inspector has made suggestions regarding improvements along these lines which should be received in the light they are given; namely, for the better protection of life and property.

A little time spent on such improvements will certainly be appreciated by your animals and inspector if no one else.

I appreciate the spirit of co-operation shown by stock owners and wish to state that I am simply doing my duty; that questions asked must be answered, as conditions are found, and that filthy or unclean premises are reported as such. There is no necessity for any place to be unclean or stock dirty, for animals will keep clean if given a chance and a little time spent in the proper direction will be appreciated by all.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. PLAYDON, M.D.V.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF MEATS AND PROVISIONS

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen: I beg to offer the following report: At the beginning of the year 1916 there was only one licensed slaughter house in town, the one operated by A. W. Boutwell of Chestnut Street. During the latter part of April Mr. Boutwell closed up the business.

During that time I inspected forty-two hogs and two veals and found them perfectly healthy and they were stamped.

Respectfully,

J. HOWARD EAMES,

Inspector.

REPORT OF TREE WARDEN

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

We have set out on the town highways some over a hundred shade trees and filled in trees where vacancies occurred, also planted trees around the small park at the corner of High Street and Middlesex Avenue.

Trees have been trimmed where branches obstruct the highways and the customary spraying has been done for the Elm Leaf Beetle; this pest seems to show in less number than in previous years.

The work on gypsy and brown tail moths is supervised by State authorities and this work has been done under their direction.

The frequent rains in the spring while spraying was being done interfered very much with the work, as much had to be done a second time to be effective, and as much of it could be gone over only once, as a result we have a great many nests to destroy.

Respectfully submitted,

OLIVER A. McGRANE,

Tree Warden.
